My Aged Care

My Aged Care is an Australian Government initiative that helps you find the information you need about aged care services including transport options. There are two types of transport services available. You can be picked up by a transport service or you may receive vouchers or subsidies for taxi services. Find out if we can help you:

Non-emergency medical transport

If you need to travel to a medical facility for an appointment, you may be able to travel by ambulance, providing you meet the Queensland Ambulance Service eligibility criteria. You must also have a medically authorised transport request, signed by your doctor. Find out if we can help you:
